

Grant-in-Aid – Award for Mid-Career and Senior Career Investigator Results: 2020/2021

Heart & Stroke offered to Mid-Career and Senior Career investigators, an award as part of the Grant-in-Aid (GIA) program funding specifically targeted towards the improvement of the heart and brain health for women. The funding for this competition has been made possible through partnership with Health Canada.

The successful awards are listed below:

Hornberger, Lisa (University of Alberta)

Vascular Dysfunction in Maternal Heart Disease & Its Contribution to Adverse Pregnancy Outcomes

Jerath, Angela (Sunnybrook Research Institute)

Postoperative Complications And Patient-Centred Outcomes In Adult Cardiac Surgery (PULSE Study)

Pyle, Glen (University of Guelph)

Changes in susceptibility to pathological stressors in a murine model of menopause

Sedlak, Tara (University of British Columbia)

Sex specific assessment of chest pain